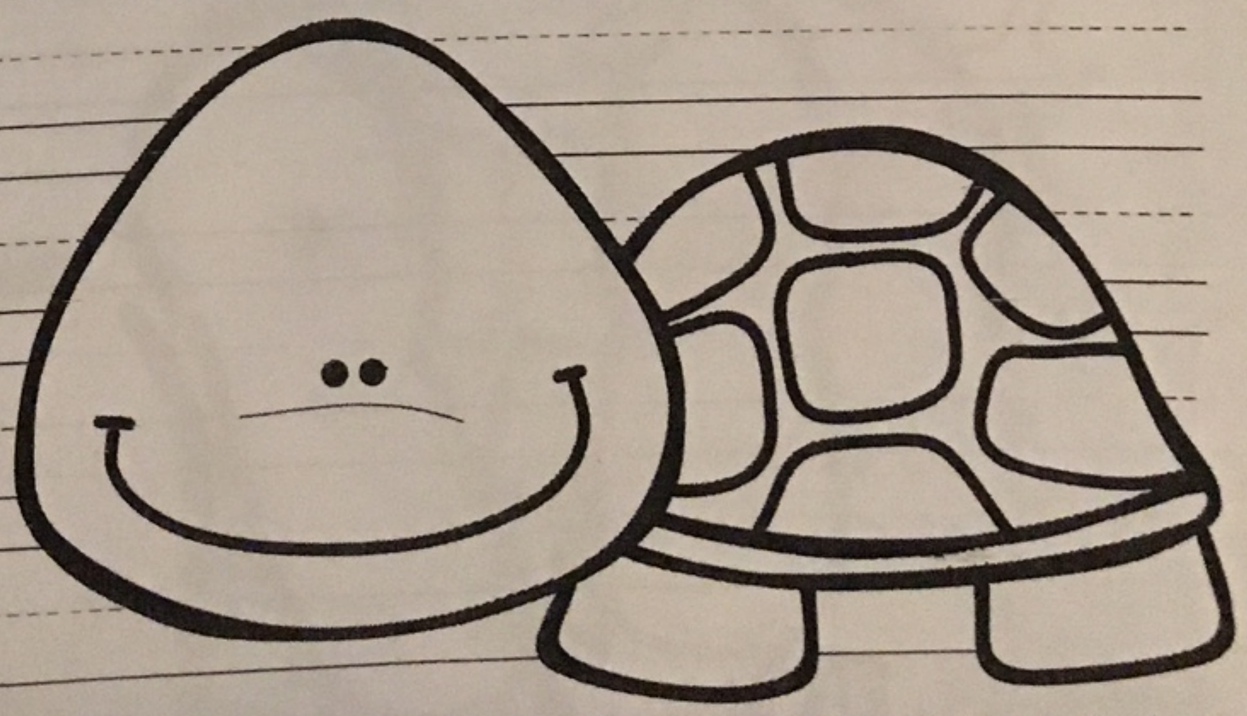
Desert Tortise

by Cadie

Desert tortoises adapt to hot weather. Desert tortoises have big shells to Protect them from predetors. Desert tortoises store water. They dig borrows in the hot sand. Desert tortoises do not need a lot of water.



Baby bear cubs

By Eadie

Baby bears learn from their parents how to hunt salmon, honey and berries. Babr bears also have the same kind of fur color and shape as their parents. They have black black fur and their shape has four legs like their parents. Ther hibernate in winter months like their parents. Ther go in their den and sleep. Their parents help them climb trees.

Gravity

by Cadie

Gravity is the force that pulls you down. If we didnt have gravity we would be floating. If we did not have gravity there would be no air. Animals need air and Plants do too. Gravity Pulls us toward the Earth. If a Penguin was trying to dump of the from the botton of the Earth could not because gravity Pulls him back. Try Puting a rubber band around a tenis ball. Put your finger underneath the rubber band, Pull your finger away from it. The rubber band Pulls your finger back. the rubber band is

GRAVITY

I went to my tortia Soup Party at China camp. I went on a hike and played. I played Capture the flag and watched the puppies. Then I had hot chocolate, I had a fun winter break.

Cadie

I had a fun, relaxing winter break with my friends and family. I went to my cousins house on christmas eve. We tracked Santa and had tamaties. I got a new thing to play in the pool. On christmas my uncle came and gave me presents. I got some legos. We made a ginger bread house and ate a lot of candy. We had dinner with chicken.

Alaska

by Cadie

Alaska is a very interesting Place. It has the tallest mountain in the united states. It is called Denali. It also has a lot of glaciers. In the northern part of Alaska it is much colder. In the southern part of Alask it is warmer. A lot more people live there. In the colder part of Alaska there are a lot of cool Animals You might see a walrus

Taking tests

by Cadie Pierce

I think students should take tests.

Do you like taking tests?

Tests are good becnase You focus a lot taking it. You focus hard before a test to get the answers right. You get you score and if its bad You work harder.

Tests are challinging, and if challenging it helps learn harder things and make Your brain stronger. It also makes You want to do harder thing to get better at them. It makes You want to do more hard and new things.

I think should take tests becnase You focus see if your good or bad at somthing and its

Tornados

by Cadie

Weather can affect us in many ways.
Tornado hurt many people, A Tornado can sometimes form from Thunder storms. To get a warning, the radio will tell you to go find shelter. A tornado whirls down hundreds of miles per hour. To get away Try to get in a basement. Winds in a Tornado can lift trucks into the air. Extreme weather is very dangerous.

Reading

by Cadie

My talent is to read. I like to read every where. But mostly I read in quiet places. I learned to read when I was 4 years old. I learned from a lot of people like teachers and parents. I like to read books Mysteries. I also like to read about animals. One Series of books I like is called warriors, It is about cats. I started liking books when I could read Then I became reall x good. I reall x love reading.
